An Introduction to LaTeX

Bob Dowling*

July 24, 1996

*University of Cambridge Computing Service, rjd4@cam.ac.uk

Contents

1 Introduction 6

2 Error handling 11

3 Structure of a LaTeX Document 14

3.1 Document class 14

3.2 The preamble 15

3.2.1 Layout 15

3.2.2 Packages 15

3.3 The Document 16

4 Structure of LaTeX Commands 17

4.1 "Backslash" commands 17

4.2 Command arguments 18

5 Characters in LaTeX 19

5.1 Simple Characters 19

5.2 LaTeX commands that generate characters 20

5.3 Accented Characters 21

5.4 Horizontal White Space in Output 21

5.5 Vertical White Space in Output 22

6 Text 23

6.1 Sectioning 23

6.2 Titles 24

6.3 Footnotes 26

6.4 Marginal notes 26

6.5 Emphasis 27

7 Environments 28

7.1 Quotations 28

7.2 Poetry 30

7.3 Lists 30

7.4 What you see is what you get! 32

7.5 Tabular data 33

8 Cross-references 36

8.1 Cross-referencing within text 36

8.2 Simple Bibliographies 38

9 Floating blocks 41

10 Changing things 45

10.1 Defining new commands 45

10.2 Changing Fonts 46

11 Simple Diagrams in LaTeX 49

11.1 Scaling 50

11.2 Size of picture 51

11.3 Placing objects in a diagram 51

11.4 Lines and Arrows 52

11.5 Boxed Text 54

11.6 Conclusion 54

12 Mathematics 55

12.1 Mathematical symbols 56

12.2 Super- and subscripts 57

12.3 Other common constructions 61

12.3.1 Surds 61

12.3.2 Fractions 61

12.3.3 Ellipsis 61

12.3.4 Arrays 62

12.4 Symbols that vary according to context 62

12.5 Spacing in mathematical formulas 65

12.6 Fonts 66

12.7 Aligning equations 67

12.8 Function names 68

12.9 Theorems etc. 68

List of Tables

1 Characters treated normally 19

2 Special characters 19

3 The three dashes: hyphen, n-dash and m-dash 20

4 Commands giving special characters 20

5 Commands giving accented characters 21

6 Font modifying commands 48

7 An example diagram in LaTeX 49

8 The source for diagram 7 50

9 Letters of the Greek alphabet 58

10 The set of maths accents 58

11 Binary operations 58

12 Binary relations 59

13 Arrows 59

14 Mathematical miscellany 60

15 Super- and subscripts 60

16 Symbols that resize according to in-line or display mode . . . 63

17 The set of resizable delimiters in LaTeX 64

18 Spacing commands for maths mode 65

19 Maths mode font modifying commands 66

20 The set of maths functions names in LaTeX 68